

CREST AI Working Group

Terms and Conditions

Please note that by participating in the CREST AI Working Group, you agree to the following:

- To promptly disclose to CREST any materials, inventions or improvements created as part of, or directly arising from, your participation in the Working Group, whether created alone or jointly with others or as a consequence of information you or CREST have supplied for the purposes the project.
- That all new intellectual property (IP) rights arising from the Working Group outputs (including copyright and related rights, database rights, design rights, patents and rights to inventions, whether registered or unregistered, together with applications and renewals) will vest in CREST, and where IP arising from the Working Group can be assigned prospectively, you agree to assign them to CREST when they are created. Where any such rights cannot be assigned prospectively, you agree to assign them to CREST on creation and to execute any documents reasonably required to give effect to or register those rights. CREST will reimburse your reasonable expenses incurred in connection with any such registration.
- To identify CREST in any applicable moral rights in Working Group outputs to enable appropriate authorship attribution. CREST will exercise attribution reasonably.
- To keep information relating to the Working Group's activities confidential and not disclose it outside your organisation without CREST's prior permission, unless and until such information enters the public domain other than through your own default.
